The above examination timetable contains examinations only for subjects which occur over more than one timetable line. From Thursday Week 4A and continuing in Week 5B you may also have examinations in other subjects which do not appear on the timetable above. The timetable for these other subjects is on the back of this sheet.

Attendance

- Monday, 20 May 2013 to Wednesday, 22 May 2013 (Week 4A): Students need only attend during scheduled examinations. Students who do not have examinations scheduled on these days will have study time at home.
- From Thursday, 23 May 2013: Students are required to attend every lesson. Some will be normal lessons and other lessons will have examinations scheduled in your normal classrooms with your regular teachers (see the back of this sheet).

Examination starting times

The starting times of each examination session may vary in order to fit all examinations onto the timetable. Check the starting times very carefully!

Reading time

Each exam has 5 minutes reading time allocated at the commencement of the examination, except English which has 10 minutes. During this time, students may not have a pen in their hand, but they may read through the paper.
Glenwood High School

Opportunity through Learning

Year 11 Mid-Course Examination Timetable 2013

EXAMINATIONS IN NORMAL LESSONS
